Day 2

Day Trip to a beautiful Island - Thinnakara. Boat rides, Dolphin Watching, snorkelling, and a further visit to the shipwreck and sand bank near Bangaram. Come back and end the day by relaxing on the beach and experiencing the magical bioluminescence. O/N Agatti

Today, we will head to the stunning island called Thinnakara, which means "This is Paradise." It is one of the most beautiful islands in the world, so get ready for some spectacular shots for your Instagram.

On our way to Thinnakara, keep your eyes on the water, as there's a chance to spot playful dolphins! 🐬❤️

You will witness white sand beaches, turquoise blue waters, and clean, pristine surroundings like never before. We will also have the option to snorkel at a shipwreck site near the sand beach.

Next, we'll visit the picturesque banks near Bangaram. Walking here feels like stepping into a movie scene, an experience so surreal you'll need a moment to believe it's real. There's also an array of water sports to choose from, and the marine life is nothing short of magical—a must-see!

As we make our way back, the day ends with us lying on the beach under a blanket of stars, experiencing the most magical sight- bioluminescence. If the magic holds, let's stay out here all night, soaking it all in. ✨

After the Holi fun, the day transitions into one filled with adventure and excitement. Time to don your best beach look now because we will be headed to Kalpatti island on a boat ride. The water here is a stunning shade of blue and the marine life is just gorgeous. You will feel like you are in another world altogether.

It is said that some nights you can see planktons glowing in the sea around Agatti, so don't be very surprised if you suddenly see the sea glow at night!

After dinner, let's stroll on the beach, dance like there's no tomorrow, play some games, have loads of fun and at the same time look out for some shooting stars.

The diver is positioned in the lower half of the frame, with a coral reef visible at the bottom. A large yellow oval and a smaller blue oval are overlaid on the top half of the image, containing text.

Scuba diving is optional, but this is one experience you just don't want to miss out on. It starts as an adventure sport, but once you dive in the ocean, you are surrounded by utmost serenity and wonder. Ready for that ZNMD moment?
